INDUSTRIAL AFFILIATES AGREEMENT

In order to support and become a member of the H-STAR Affiliate Programs at Stanford University at the Strategic Member level, _____ (Strategic Member) agrees to pay the sum of ____ (amount) to Stanford University for the annual period _____. This agreement is considered renewed on an annual basis upon receipt of an annual membership fee from Strategic Member.

Membership in H-STAR Programs at Stanford University as a Strategic Member will facilitate communication and participation between Stanford University and Strategic Member in areas of mutual interest including the following benefits of membership at the Strategic Membership level:

1. A specific individual, appointed by Stanford Executive Director of mediaX (Martha Russell, or other designated mediaX staff), or ChangeLabs (Banny Banerjee), mutually agreed upon, will serve as liaison with Strategic Member.
2. Strategic Member will be invited to attend events from a year-round calendar of workshops, symposia, and conferences and with opportunities for informal exchange of ideas among industry representatives and Stanford University researchers and students.
3. Strategic Member will be invited to curated opportunities for informal exchange of ideas among industry representatives and Stanford University researchers and students in which Stanford thought leaders, [H-STAR] Programs members, students, and invited experts, participation in transdisciplinary co-creation, and sharing research results and advance next generation approaches to multi-dimensional, complex systems challenges, including emerging technologies and human sciences, and building capacity to address them:
 - a. supporting Stanford classes in which students address complex challenges;
 - b. participation in strategic discussions about future research to be considered by faculty members affiliated with Stanford H-STAR, or
 - c. suggesting a topic for a curated workshop at Stanford University.
4. Strategic Member may receive preprints and reprints of copies of (or access to) research reports, papers and other publications originated by faculty and students associated with H-STAR Programs at Stanford University.
5. Strategic Member may receive assistance, if desired, in arranging interviews with faculty regarding research, recruitment, or to discuss specific problems.
6. Strategic Member may be invited to attend select paid events offered by H-STAR at discounted rates.
7. Strategic Member may identify individuals to come to Stanford as Visiting Scholars in accordance with Stanford policies governing Visiting Scholars (<http://doresearch.stanford.edu/policies/research-policy-handbook/non-faculty-research-appointments/visiting-scholars>) and approvals. The Visiting Scholar fee is in addition to the Strategic Membership fee. Member organizations of the Strategic Member who wish to send Visiting Scholars to Stanford will first become members of mediaX or ChangeLabs themselves, in order to receive this benefit.

8. H-STAR Programs, for example, mediaX or ChangeLabs, will work with Strategic Member to identify additional opportunities for synergistic interfaces between Stanford University and Strategic Member. This may include opportunities for sponsored research, or additional events or workshops at Stanford or other locations. Additional fees may apply for these activities.
9. The parties to this document agree that a copy of the original signature (including an electronic copy) may be used for any and all purposes for which the original signature may have been used. The parties agree they will have no rights to challenge the use or authenticity of this document based solely on the absence of an original signature.
10. Strategic Member acknowledges and agrees that Stanford University's policies guide the teaching and research mission of the university, including all activities conducted with the support of Industrial Affiliate programs. The following are some of the important considerations for Industrial Affiliate programs at Stanford:
 - a. Stanford University does not permit secrecy in research, i.e., all interested persons will have access to the underlying data, the processes and the results of research conducted at Stanford;
 - b. Teaching and research at Stanford are guided by its faculty who select research topics, adopt research methodology, and select participants;
 - c. Stanford has established procedures for visitors who wish to collaborate on research conducted at Stanford. If member companies choose to send representatives to Stanford for this purpose, those policies and procedures will be applicable, in addition to any particular fees or other arrangements required by the Affiliate program;
 - d. Stanford's intellectual property policies are applied consistently to all research conducted at Stanford. No license or other intellectual property rights will be granted as a result of membership in the program. Unless required otherwise, individuals at Stanford are free to place their inventions in the public domain.
 - e. Unlike sponsored projects, a Strategic Memberships does not convey specific project deliverables, nor are membership fees subject to Stanford University's negotiated indirect cost rates. Affiliate membership fees are for the unrestricted use of the program being supported. Stanford University will use a portion of all membership fees for university infrastructure.
